ARGENTINE LIABILITIES.

OUR HOPES IN AFRICA.

London, Nov. 20th.

Misfortune is said to make one acquainted with strange bedfellows, but in the case of Argentina it seems to raise up friends in an unexpected quarter. Who could have imagined six months ago that the Bank of England would undertake the difficult task of cleansing the "Augean stables" at Buenos Ayres, which so many alarming and conflicting telegrams have been published in Europe day after day? The Special Committee at which a member of the Bank of England is to preside will probably commence its sittings to-day, and perhaps next week we shall hear something of the result of their enquiries. The alarm yesterday on the Stock Exchange was as great as ever, perhaps because the utmost secrecy is observed as to the amount of paper held by Barings. Meantime other banking houses are said to be "up a tree," and it remains to be seen whether the Bank of England will likewise guarantee their acceptances for 3 years.

The necessity of paying for service of the Argentine debt is still more serious affair, as it will involve the creation of another guarantee fund for 3 years, say at £3,000,000 a year. This, of course, is irrespective of Cedulas, the coupons on which are about 2 millions sterling. The Bank of England may refuse to protect the Cedulas, but must draw the line somewhere, but even if payment were suspended on the latter results would not be so terrible as if the public debt were neglected. Telegrams from Paris report that a powerful syndicate of French, English and German bankers is being formed, to examine into Argentine affairs and see what help they can give in the present emergency. At the same time the rise of the gold premium at Buenos Ayres naturally leads people in Europe to suppose that things are improving on your side of the water.

It is surmised that if the Bank of England and the syndicate of international bankers undertake over the financial affairs of Argentina they may demand some tangible security such as the Custom-House of Buenos Ayres. In this event a determined refusal is the only answer that should be given. Far better any financial chaos than allow a foreign syndicate control in the financial affairs of the nation. If Argentina gives any security whatever to the Bank of England the latter will probably have to pay the coupons on the Argentine debt for fear of renewing the present tedious crisis. In my opinion the Bank of England acted most indiscreetly in respect to the Barings, now that it has gone so far it cannot go back.

There is, however, no doubt that the turn of affairs has been a great gain to Argentina, if the shinplaster were not hopelessly depreciated it ought to improve 40 per cent under such circumstances, but this is unlikely. The Bank of England evidently sees that the public expect it will act in the same position to Argentine bolders that the house of Baring occupied and if necessary meet the coupons on a notification in the Times of to-day although a member of the Bank of England will take part in the proceedings the Special Committee, it is not the intention of the Bank to interfere at all in the financial affairs of Argentina. This opinion is of the "tira y afloja" kind. Notice was published in the Times yesterday, presumably by the Bank, the December coupons of Argentine would be paid. If the December, why not those which follow?

This would have no right to institute. Absent Special Committee of enquiry Argentine finances if it must eschew all responsibility in the matter coupons. The Times begs Pres. Pelle to make a clean breast of it and confess the full amount of the Argentine liabilities, but this implies the intention of the Bank and its allies to assume the service of the debt, or else the wish to enquire into Argentine affairs would be in the last degree insolent and unwarrantable.

But before enquiring into Argentine affairs we want to know how much of the estimated assets of the Barings are Argentine scrip. These assets are put down at 21 millions sterling; if only one million be Argentine bonds the case is not hopeless, but if 5 or 20 millions there would be much cause for alarm. It is the unknown in these matters that breeds uneasiness: why not let us know the best, or the worst, at once.

Lord Salisbury's speech on the Queen's Message pointed out that his recent policy in Africa might serve in some manner, by opening up fresh markets for British manufactures, to compensate for any loss of trade by reason of the McKinley tariff in the United States. If the premier was serious in saying such a thing he must know very little about British trade. I can only illustrate the relation of the two things he spoke of by an anecdote about Professor Geikie, the geologist. Some body asked him if it was true that the opening of the Panama Canal, by diverting a portion of the Gulf Stream, might affect the temperature of the Atlantic? He replied, "yes, but not in a sensible degree; in fact about as much as a kettle of hot water poured into the Thames."

Our trade with the United States averages 126 millions sterling per annum, that with Western and Central Africa is something over one million. We get palm oil from Lagos, Gambia and Sierra Leone, and these centres of our trade contain an aggregate white population of 520 souls. We supply those settlements with rum, and the barter is very simple; a gallon of rum for a gallon of palm-oil. The scenes which occur when a British ship arrives with her cargo of rum are such as you would hardly expect to see even in the infernal regions. Thus while missionaries are laboring to civilize the negroes our trade relations are of the most demoralizing kind.

In fact any friend of humanity, so far from echoing Lord Salisbury's sentiment, would rejoice to see our trade with Western Africa suppressed by Act of Parliament. No! The hopes of British commerce do not lie in that direction. It is remarkable that our trade with West Africa has been declining in the past 10 years, which some ascribe to the increasing activity of French agents in Senegal. Be the cause what it may the imports fell off £500,000 between 1884 and 1888.

A couple of houses in Birmingham make glass beads for the natives, and cotton goods from Manchester are consumed to some extent, but the trade mainly consists of rum. The Liquor Traffic, indeed, commands for some occult reason all the support of Tories, whether it be the public-houses in England or the rum-ships in West Africa. Such is the irony of Fate! We send Missionaries to China to convert the natives, and compel the Chinese Government with our artillery to allow the introduction of opium from India, to demoralize the Chinese. We even make opium a Government monopoly in India, to swell the revenue.

If the rum trade of West Africa could be made equally important, and profitable it might realize Lord Salisbury's expectations. But, let us hope otherwise. The 520 British subjects in Western Africa will never become the hope of British commerce. There is room for the expansion of our trade in other directions. Australia is in her infancy, but growing with a vigor and strength that escapes general notice. No other part of the world has relatively made such progress in the last ten years. Let Lord Salisbury look there, and he will, see more reason to rejoice than in his new African annexations.

LONDON LETTER.

THE IRISH CRISIS. LORD SALISBURY'S SPEECH.

THE SEVENTH COMMANDMENT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Dec. 4.

I have sent you an overwhelming mass of printed copy, every letter of which is golden. To extract the essence of that matter and lay before you the position of affairs in a few words is at this psychological moment an impossibility. What has been long wanting has occurred. We had got into a political labyrinth in which no party knew its own men, and barely its own opinions. The situation was natural to a state of transition. We were basking in the centre of a cyclone. And even now there are but drops here and there, and nothing to assure us whence the storm cometh and when it will burst. A premonitory wave of moral indignation is passing over us which at least induces every man to seek his tent and watch, whilst the so-called leaders of public opinion in the presence of signs and portents have to disclose themselves in their true colours. In failing to do this, or in venturing to do this, some will be taken and others left. Mr. Parnell we know, Mr. Gladstone we think we know. As the wind riseth, one and the other may be whisked away, and their places will know them no more than as if they had never existed. In the dim religious light now prevailing one has more faith in the calm censures of the Irish prelates than in the midnight meetings of Irish Members in the Committee Room, No. 15, of the House of Commons. More faith in principles than in expedients, and in humanity than in moralists. When the public mind is roused from its accustomed apathy and its absorption in the common accidents of life, it is not men's opinions, but man's nature that comes uppermost. Centuries and their pageantry seem to vanish whilst Celt and Saxon face each other as in the dawn of history. One forgets telephones and morning newspapers when, in spite of the uplifted crozier, the fiery Celt shouts for Parnell and cries, "To —— with Dillon," "to —— with O'Brien," "to ——with Davitt." Do not start at this language. It means nothing, or it means no more than the saintly Gladstone meant when he expounded the cause of Home Rule. He has a grudge against the victors at Flodden and Culloden. It means no more than Lord Salisbury on his side meant when in his speech only yesterday he talked of reducing the Celtic vote in the British Parliament, and again bewailed the notion of handing over "our fellows" in Ulster to the tender mercies of the Celt. He means simply that the basis of all politics is ethnology. In times of agitation individual superiorities, party feeling and class hatreds give way to race hatred, the lowest prompting of our animalistic nature. Let us take a glimpse at Committee Room No. 15. Night after night the Irish Members, weary and worn, are discussing the deposition of Mr. Parnell. One of them, Mr. T. M. Healy, has barely recovered from an attack of typhus, Encased in plaster of Paris his rather mean figure, for the first time in its existence, is made to sit erect whilst the soul within pours out its eloquence in support of morality and the Irish cause. The enthusiasm of the Irish Members, their genuine hard work, and the delicacy of feeling they have so far displayed at the express bidding of Mr. Parnell, in not retaliating on prominent members of the Liberal Unionist party by throwing the social sin of Mr. Parnell in their own faces, have won the sympathies of many English politicians. There in that stuffy room, Charles Stewart Parnell sits imperturbable, in defiance of the thunders of the Irish Church, the growls of the virtuous middle class English, the violent attacks of his own people and party and the consciousness of sin. At times he condescends to make a vehement speech, but in general he quietly proceeds with his duties as chairman, overruling his own rules and all others, and occasionally rises to say "Mr Healy, that's impertinent." Dr. Tanner, you'll do me the favour to sit down." Tanner does sit down. Parnell is still master, and why! He represents hatred to England for one thing and hatred to radicalism for another; and he knows it, and between the two he thinks he may yet win. To quote a cold impartial snowy St. Petersburgh journal, his very "viciousness" makes him master. To the crozier he opposes the orange flag; to the snarls of his former supporters, the yells of the men of Cork—"to——with them;" and to Mr. Gladstone and the English saints, he opposes the gibes of Lord Salisbury against the Healys and Sextons who have abandoned their leader, and still more extraordinary he can point to the Times and to Conservative London papers which for their own base purposes are absolutely at this moment supporting Mr. Parnell, and laughing at the Seventh Commandment. For has not Lord Salisbury just said 'we must not allow the Seventh Commandment to eat up all its neighbours.' Lord Salisbury's favourites in the Decalogue are the eighth and the tenth. Adultery he says in its way is very bad, but before all things "protect property." He will find out before long that it is the breach of the eighth and the tenth Commandments by him and his class that has made them more hateful to the English and Irish people than ten thousand Parnells and Mrs O'Sheas. That man Denman could not put on the black cap and go through the formality of condemning the wretched woman Wheeler to death without snivelling out a homily on "indecent lust," when, as you will see by a powerful article I send you, that the whole evidence proved that the miserable being, woman as she is, whilst perhaps through poverty she sinned with other men, was consumed by a romantic affection for that creature Hogg. Morality as much as you like, but, above all things, let us have Truth. Why, only to day, a man killed his wife in a London suburb, and there was no adultery in the case. It is not this or that passion, not Miss Wheeler's or Lord Salisbury's passion, which in some respects is worse, that we have to control, but all. We cannot suppress human nature, but, by wholesome legislation and raising the moral status of the masses whilst neglecting the interests of the few, we can remove many temptations to crime. This Lord Salisbury and his fellows know, and hypocritically affect the morality that suits them. The Seventh Commandment has done Lord Salisbury and his friends a good turn, but the Nemesis is to come. Whilst the Irish party is split, and the Liberals are in disarray, the Government has with ease passed the second reading of its Tithe Bill, and the Irish Land Purchase Bill, the latter by a sweeping majority of 138. Many of the Irish members who opposed the first reading voted for the second. Everything is topsy-turvy. The session will perhaps close at the end of the week, and the Tories will go home giggling to their Christmas festivities, but the Nemesis will come. Mr. Clancy's ingenious compromise, by which he proposes, as a friend of Mr. Parnell, to get Mr. Gladstone to adhere to certain clauses in a Home Rule Bill, which will place the Irish constabulary and the settlement of the Irish Land question in the hands of the native parliament, Mr. Parnell on these conditions agreeing to retire, will place the G.O.M. in a fix and prove the staunchness of what the men of Cork call "a slippery old devil and to——with him." Mr. Clancy's proposal is to be considered at the meeting of Irish members to-night. The English Radicals will certainly support the Irish demand, and, little by little, you will see how the Seventh Commandment will winnow the chaff from the wheat and make English statesmen declare themselves. The Conservatives and Liberal Unionists patronise Mr. Parnell for the same reason that so many branches of the Irish National League bid him "to go"—not on account of his social indiscretion with a protestant lady they care nothing about, but because he never thinks of the tenants but only of the smaller landlords, of whom he is one, who wish to free themselves from the over-shadowing of the great Anglo-Irish dominions. This feeling will grow, and, meanwhile, Mr. Davitt and the Irish Labor party will rise and become more intimately allied with the British social-democrats, who, in course of time, will make short work of both Gladstonians and Tories, and then the Irish people in close communion with their fellow countrymen here, shall enjoy their own again.

POSTSCRIPT.

December 4th, 9 p. m.

You sell off and come to London. The figures of the Star's circulation for the past three days have been as follows:—

Monday	191,000
Tuesday	231,000
Wednesday	336,000
Total	758,000

Giving a daily average of 252,000.

So much for a half-penny paper of ultra-radical politics. It is a Home Rule paper with the Irish element eliminated. A democratic paper with the old Socialist element that made it under Massingham's editorship eliminated. It is a "Labby" paper, a thing to sell; and it sells. Like its former editor T. P. O'Connor, who signs the anti-Parnellist manifesto from America, the Star is a bitter opponent of the Irish leader—for Irish leader he is still. I came down to the Club this evening quite prepared to wait long past midnight to see the Irish members trooping fresh from the meeting and hear of the final decision. There is none. They have adjourned again until to-morrow at noon; but I see that after the meeting there was an unofficial confabulation in which Mr. Clancy's proposal was favourably received. That proposal the Pall Mall Gazette calls a "red herring." It certainly is nothing more than the pith of Mr. Parnell's manifesto and would have been well received by the Radical party had Mr. Parnell been able to subdue his natural caddishness, had he committed no breaches of confidence and controlled his hatred of the race from which his sires at least sprang. I am so tired of coffeeing and cigarring waiting for the Irish members that I look up the funny things to keep myself awake. I see that a fellow from the United States has arrived who calls himself the "Human Ostrich." He undertakes to eat chimney-glasses, bottles, coal, coke, bricks, oyster shells, rags, old boots, etc. Parnell can't do that. But he'll have to if he is going to win. I see a lady in Germany bought a time-piece in foreign ports as a present for her husband. In passing through the lynx-eyed customs officers she stored away the time-piece up her dress and lo! as she was walking away the alarm struck up. She was stopped. Parnell had better see to that. His tricks need every precaution to succeed. He has been trying to nobble the United Ireland. The acting manager replies that Mr. O'Brien is the editor and from him only he receives his instructions. The Irish societies of New York and Brooklyn which are called after the various counties of Ireland held a meeting at Cooper Union last night. The Corkmen's banner had the place of honour. The name of Parnell was vociferously cheered. When Balfour's name was hissed, Mr. District Attorney Goff said, "don't hiss him, perhaps within a hundred days you will cheer him as the best friend Ireland ever had." Prophetic Goff! Whilst he spoke, Mr. Parnell and his remaining supporters were voting with the British Government and swelling their majority on the Irish Land Purchase Bill, and Lord Salisbury was patting Mr. Parnell on the head in his speech at Waterfoot Mill yesterday and accusing the "patriot" Irish members of treachery Funny state of affairs. The Primrose ladies are enthusiastic about Mr. Parnell. They say "come, dear Mr. Parnell, and aid us against the ill-dressed ill bred Radicals. Never mind that little affair. She is a horror. The Irish World—Patrick Ford—has gone against Parnell and supports Mr. Gladstone. The delegates, Dillon, O'Brien, and T. P. O'Connor are obliged to stop their mission and will probably come here. The whole thing as a mere matter of daily politics is unentangleable. Let us leave great principles to leisurely work their way with time through the clamour of vulgar intrigues.

The Pall Mall Gazette has a short article on the split between the English and Continental delegates in the Argentine Financial Commission; but I have already sent you the latest and best information on that subject. The Bank rate is reduced to 5 per cent and Argentines for some reason or another are decidedly better to night, but Consols are down and the market is dull, not to say, depressed. The 6 per cent rate did not bring the gold that was expected.

MAR DEL PLATA GOSSIP.

Dear STANDARD:—

I happened to be down at our only watering-place for a few days, and have just thought that an informal account of the proceedings there may not be unacceptable to you. I was surprised to find the place quite full, and all the hotels crowded in spite of the crisis—the Bristol almost entirely with Argentine families—and the Grand almost become an English hotel. Some of the names of the fashionable "ingleses" (most of them with their families as well), to be seen daily inhaling the ozone and disporting themselves in the briny, are as follows:—

Messrs. Boadle, Bagley, Begg, Crawford, Bowen, Curry, Cilley, Gunning, Kidd, W. Ham, Davenport, Murray, Moss, Seymour, Howard, Warden, Wanklyn, Ramsay, McClymont, Tulloch, J. J. Murphy, Menzies, Stirling, Norton—most of whom patronised the Grand Hotel; besides Mr. Taylor in his chalet and Mr. J. Carthy in the Hotel de Amistad. The Luro, Chevalier and Gibson families occupied their own residences generally, and were but seldom seen at the hotels of an evening.

Some of the streets are paved, and though tramway lines are put down no cars are running. The bathing-boxes of the Grand Hotel are not so comfortable as the former ones, which were all swept away by the sea during the winter. The bathing-man (Calefatti) has got much stouter, and besides taking care of the girls, as usual, in the water, and teaching them to swim, is now also "boss" of the place as "recibidor de rentas." I went to look at the grotto, which is very much enlarged artificially, and quite covered on the outside with names. There is a broken slab of marble, like a tombstone, announcing, in very bad taste, the discoverer of the grotto; but it is better fun reading the names and inscriptions. One of these latter runs "Cora—for ever!" evidently from a man proud of his sweetheart; another in a few simple words expressed, I thought, a world of romance—"a P. jamas to olvidare, J."—only that and nothing more to remind the faithless Pedro that he had broken Juanita's poor heart: but the nicest of all is this, signed by "Maria":—

"Un rey ofrecer podrá
Un trono á su amada hermosa
Pero un trono es poca cosa,
Si el alma fiel no le da!" (good for Maria!)

I then went to see the St. James's Hotel about which everybody was talking, and regret its want of completion. It seems, indeed, a palatial building, standing on the edge of the 'barranca' in New Brighton Bay; where everyone says it is much safer to bathe, as there are neither currents nor deep water. The works at the hotel have come to a stand-still, and though the plastering is not more than half done, all the scaffolding has been removed, or perhaps blown away. It is roofed with corrugated iron, and inhabited at present by a few pigeons in solitary grandeur. Everyone sympathised with the enterprising capitalist, and wished him better luck. It was generally remarked that what has been known to "habitués" of Mar del Plata for some years past, as the Home Rule Party, was conspicuous by its absence; and that flirtations were not carried on so openly as formerly. Even the young ladies (God bless them!) seem depressed by the crisis—"porque atravesamos."

All the talk amongst the men was—that the bathing was splendid and the air better still; that it was "all rot" going to the "Laguna" on an excursion; that they only went to please the women-folk; that they would much prefer to be out in a boat catching "corbina," or even up to their knees in water, netting "shrimps;" some said these were "prawns," but whatever they were, they were very good eating—only there was so little of them; that the new hotel was a "camisa de once varas" for the owner; that it looked like Holyrood Palace, or a Scotch hydropathic establishment; that the gambling in the Bristol was frightful; that one man lost fifty thousand one night, and another twenty; that the latter had no money to pay and that they put everything he had up to auction; that a circular was going the rounds warning wives and mothers to keep their husbands and sons away from such a sink of iniquity; that five dollars a day, even without wine, was very cheap for the "Grand;" and that every man that could scrape a few dollars together might do worse than spend them in Mar del Plata.

The ladies said that it was a splendid place for the children, and that they (the children) could roll about in the sand all day without spoiling their clothes; that they liked to see the dancing in the 'salon' of an evening; that the place was very quiet and enjoyable; that the doctors had ordered such a person to come down for the benefit of her health, and that she had gone away very much improved; that they didn't find it lonely, and wouldn't mind staying any length of time, only that the men were always fretting about their business and wanting to be off.

The younger portion said the sun and sea air together were enough to ruin any complexion; that vaseline, cold cream and the smallest 'soupcon' of powder after bathing were the only remedies; that the children were a great 'bother'; that the Luros—alas!—never joined in the dances now, but always stopped at home in their 'chalet'; that such a one looked a perfect fright in a bathing costume; and that they did not like driving on the pic-nics so much as wandering about in the woods afterwards, or picking shells on the sea shore.

The bathing-man (William) told me that the men weren't allowed any longer to show off their figures in a glove-fitting bathing-suit with coloured stripes, but had to don a loose and more feminine blue-serge costume, on pain of a stiff fine from the Municipality. And the "cochero," who drove me to the station, said that though there was "mucha gente" there was "poca plata;" and that as maize was now seven dollars the hundred kilos, they should have to do a lot of business, indeed, to be enabled to pay their way.

Yesterday our exchanges from Mendoza brought us particulars of the dynamite outrage reported by us in a recent issue. The Andes says that the city was suddenly thrown into great alarm at 11.30 on Monday night by a loud report. No one knew what it was, and there was a rush to the scene of the explosion. It was soon discovered that a window in the offices of the Manager of the Transandiae Railway had been destroyed by the explosion. It subsequently transpired that the explosion had been caused by a dynamite cartridge placed by some criminal hand on the window sill. One of the employees, on being questioned, stated that he was convinced the outrage had been perpetrated by a man who had been dismissed from the company's service, who had been placed under arrest and singular enough had been almost immediately released. Several passers-by at the time of the explosion, stated that they saw two men running away and firing revolvers. The whole affair appears to be a mystery. The only damage done was the destruction of the window.

Serious complaints have been received by the N. R. Board of the conduct of employees of the Argentine Great Western.

A decree for the transfer of the Chilcas and Santa Rosa Railway, built by Messrs. L. González and Co. will be issued next week.

We received the following yesterday:—

Buenos Ayres,
January 9th, 1891

To the Editor of the STANDARD

Dear Sir,

Thanking you for your reply to my letter, I think my insinuations in regard to the financial progress of the Northern Railway are quiet correct, for, had the workmen been paid the same as on other lines, the profits to shareholders would have been a little less.

You seem to doubt my statement respecting our being from 60 to 100 per cent less than other Companies. I will give you the wages drawn monthly by several other Companies' drivers that run into Buenos Ayres with both local and through:—

Trains	First-class	Fourth-class
	$	$
Southern	151·25	100 with percentage half when over 180
Pacific	140	100 all over 200
Campana	145	110 half when above 180 with 10 o/o making it 121 for first-class
F. C. N.	120	82·85 per day and 10 o/o only.
F. C. N.

If you will reckon the above for yourself you will find that we are 100 per cent behind and that after paying household expenses we have not got a red cent left, were it not for the generosity of some reader of the STANDARD leaving one in the train which the guards gave to us we should not have had the pleasure of reading your interesting paper, as we cannot afford to buy one.

A Workman.

(Ed. Note.) Our correspondent seems to be under the impression that 100 per cent less is one half; if his wages were 100 per cent less than those of another man, he would not even receive the red cent of which he speaks. Fifty per cent less than a given amount is equal to one half of that amount.

The Curuzu-Cuatia-Mercedes section of the North-Eastern Railway is, we hear, to be opened to traffic on the 15th inst.

The National Railway Board in view of yesterday's decree has appointed a commission to take over the Central North Railway extensions. This commission, as well as we are informed, will consist of some of the principal officers of the Bureau, amongst whom we have the pleasure to note the names of fiscal accountant Mr Hade, sub-accountant Mr Delgado, Mr Rodriguez etc. As Mr Hade is fiscal accountant we hope to hear of his efforts and have no doubt as to the assistance which will be rendered him by Mr Munro in the arduous task which he has before him. The difficulties with which Mr. Munro has had to contend with in regard to the fore-mentioned extension have been many, and we congratulate him on having an opportunity of such a happy release from extra work. We must promise, for the better intelligence of our readers, that the extension about to be taken over have cost the State a very great sum of money, and as the above-mentioned extensions can now be worked to a profit we must applaud the decision of the athorities in taking upon themselves the working of the railway extensions.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

A quiet day yesterday in the city. Things were calm enough on the Bolsa, although public indignation on the subject of the taxes has in no way subsided. Startling news is expected to-day from the Andes or the Mesopotamia of the Plate.

No news from Chile yesterday. A telegram from Mendoza states that they could hear fighting going on on the other side of the Andes.

The San Juan elections for the legislature take place to-day and disturbances are anticipated. The San Juaninos are the most sensible as well as the best-built men in the Republic. They abolished their Municipality some time ago. But even the most sensible men are liable to wax angry in election times.

Queer news from Rio. They are trying the Varela trick there of sending police men to the Bolsa to disperse and intimidate—as if a broker could be intimidated—the brokers. The boom in Rio is going to wind up as it did here.

Our Financial Cato is still busily engaged in breaking the promises with which he managed to have himself applauded into the financial pigskin. He has now given up the idea of dismissing hundred Custom House clerks. That's right, there are still a few patches of his original programme which he has yet to remove. Why not increase the issue of paper-money?

Gunpowdery news yesterday from Entre Rios. General Racedo has arrived there, and armed men are daily crossing the river from Santa Fe. It is very easy to see how all this is going to end.

In police circles the news of the day was a terrible tragedy in Flores of which Cupid with his poisoned darts was again the cause. The protagonists are an Italian couple, who having arrived some years ago in this country managed to eke out a frugal but fairly comfortable existence on the fruit of this joint toil. As years passed and the crisis loomed up Lucas Delego, the husband, with wise but unfortunately fatal prevision, resolved to leave the city and settle in the Village of the Plain, where for a certain time everything went well. Then came the change that preceded the catastrophe. Delego contracted an intimacy bordering on friendship with a compatriot named Paterno, first invited him to his house and after some time accepted him as a boarder. From that moment everything changed. Tormented by evil reports and a fevered imagination, Delego fancied himself an injured husband and vowed vengeance. The exact details of what took place are not yet known, but it seems that Delego, whilst at dinner with his wife and Paterno, suddenly rose from the table rushed to his bedroom and re-appearing with a dagger made a terrible onslaught on the other two. All beyond this that is known is that Paterno was seen to leave wounded and bleeding, whilst when the neighbours invaded the house they found Delego and his wife horribly mutilated. The former only survived a few hours, whilst the latter, though still alive, is not expected to recover, having no less than 41 wounds, some very serious.

There was a street brawl in Calle Lavalle last night which put the whole neighbourhood in a ferment. Mr. Luis Perez attacked two of his bosom friends with a revolver and wounded one of them in the hand, fortunately not doing any serious injury. Being called upon to stand and deliver by the nearest blue, he took to his heels over the "azoteas" of the neighbouring houses and was only brought to bay, after an exciting chase, in a house in Calle Florida. It is curious to note that the scene of battle was in front of Mr. Deck's well-known undertaking establishment, though, fortunately for all parties, Mr. Deck's services were not required.

The committee of the Union Industrial Argentina will meet on Monday at half-past two p.m., to revise the accounts and take into consideration several petitions presented. The number of members has been increased to twelve.

Mr. Dalmiro Costa, composer of 'Nieves que Pasan' and 'Ondas del Rhin,' having brought an action against Mr. Hartmann, the music-publisher for selling these 'morceaux' without his authority, and having filed a claim for $5000 damages, Judge Garay has dismissed the suit and ordered all the copies confiscated to be burned.

Difendiamoci! Such is the inspiriting heading of a vigorous article in yesterday's Operaio Italiano, from the pen of Signor Boselli. The article is an appeal to the Ital an workmen in the country and calls on them to put all their savings in the private banks and nowhere else. It is the most vigorous article on the situation we have yet seen. It describes the situation of the country since August, when all thought that "il periodo dei ladronnecci" had expired. It shows how the popular hopes had been dashed to the ground, attacks Congress, runs full tilt against our Financ

THE DIPPING SEASON.
Under the above heading, the following appears in a recent exchange:—
"Speaking of Dips themselves, perhaps the most significant feature in their "History is the way that the Old-fashioned have been superseded by the more "Modern and Scientific preparations. As Tobacco gave place to the various "Fluids" "and these again to the "Powders," so we find to-day these latter retiring before the "new Paste Dips. Of the many recent experiments we have witnessed in England and "the Colonies, the most successful were with an Arsenical Paste, manufactured by "Tomlinson and Hayward, of Lincoln, a firm that has always been noted for keeping "abreast of the times."
"The advantages of the Paste over the "Powders" are many:—
"It does not make the wool dry and harsh, but leaves it soft and silky, giving a "healthy sweet smell to the sheep. Being, so to speak, already mixed, it is easier to "prepare there, being no waste nor loss "Powders," to fly about.
"As it is prepared with Carbolic it is lighter than the "Powders" and does not "so readily settle to the bottom, and for the same reason it is not injurious to the "hands. It goes in less space and is a more concentrated form than the "Powders," "thus effecting an economy in transport and labour. It costs less, and will mix with "any kind of water. In a word, it is the "Powders," cleared of their many inherent "defects, with their curative properties and good qualities preserved and increased "Until the manufacturers make some better discovery

Saturday, January 10th.

From bad to worse is the concise and grim summary of public opinion on 'Change anent the financial situation. Improvement and all prospects of same seem to have disappeared completely, and when news is now asked for it is generally with a presentiment that the worst may be anticipated. This may be thought a very pessimistic view to take of affairs, but who is to blame? Assuredly not the market for expressing a candid opinion of what it feels is inevitably bound to take place, and which unfortunately seems only too well borne out by the current of events. I may be urged that the aspect of affairs will change radically when the Minister has his arms primed with the approval of the bills, but meantime the Customs' receipts are settling down to a bed-rock level, which will certainly not shew any change under the regime of a new tariff with higher duties. As a matter of fact, the importing houses have forestalled Dr. Lopez and his bills; they have laid in a stock of goods ranging in almost every instance from six months to a year, so that the increased duties will just give the reverse of increased revenue. And as in this, so in other cases, the Minister will find his bills produce directly the contrary effect to what is aimed at, leaving the market, the unbiassed spectator, no other role but to deplore the policy that is at the same time so deplorably near sighted and so inefficacious. Business of every kind is at a standstill; distrust is again as rampant as ever, and thus it is that the market summarises the situation as drifting from the rapids to the whirlpool, seeing, as it does, no prospects of relief under the present mistaken direction of affairs. Stocks are leaden-looking, gold stands solid at 332, and exchange weak at 1.51 francs. Verily if the menace of the bills has done so much harm, it will be difficult to gauge the damage when apprehensions have become reality.

The news of the day centred on the new Provincial Cabinet, which is presumed to be Dr. Villamayor as Minister of Government and Dr. Ortiz de Rosas as Minister of Finance, the Public Works folio being suppressed. It is curious to note that the advent of Dr. Ortiz de Rosas to the Finance Office created a flutter of excitement amongst Cedula holders, as he is known to have been a steadfast opponent of the Conversion Scheme. On the other hand it is said that his views have been already elicited on the point and that he is prepared to abide by the laws as they stand. It would be well for Cedula holders to remember that if the Cedula Conversion Scheme falls through, the prospects of the next coupon being paid are not to say roseate, which means that instead of having to complain of a 20 o|o shave they will be minus 100 per cent.

The business at the second hour was dull in the extreme, and it was quite evident that all business was postponed till Monday, as stocks were all neglected and shewed no change in rates. National Bank shares left off at 101.50, Catalinas at 18.70 and Constructors at 9.60, whilst in Cedulas nothing was done, the rates shewing equally little change.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks during the second ring:—

The Italian packet Aquila clears on Monday for Genoa and is a fast steamer.

In exchange a fair business was done to-day, although brokers reported there was no great press either of takers or drawers. First-rate paper was passed at 14⅝d. and 1.51-53 francs Paris and Antwerp.

The Lamport and Holt packet Leibnitz arrived yesterday in Montevideo with dates to Dec. 17th, 11 passengers and 353 tons cargo. Mails come up to-night per Saturno, and Leibnitz will be up on Monday.

The French mail packet Equateur left Rio to-day at 6 a.m. for the Plate.

In consequence of the Deputies having sanctioned the clause of the bills touching the gold coupones it is noted that the latter are already beginning to be withdrawn from circulation, so that by the time the bills are definitely passed there will no longer be any on the market. It seems that there is an understanding to this effect between the various bank-managers.

Established nearly 50 years

The total amount of new polices issued by the Equitable Insurance Company last year summed up 200,000,000, which shews the enormous business this company is doing.

Owing to the Senate not having met to-day the Lopez bills will not be taken up till Monday next, by which time it is expected the Financial committee will be prepared with its report. The latter will, of course, be recommendatory, and, it is said, that instead of its being transmitted to the Chamber orally through the speech of the informing member, as is customary, it will be a concise arrangement of figures set forth on paper.

Messrs. Runciman and Co. have submitted to the Government for approval the plans of their proposed colony in Lot 19, letter D. section I., National Territories, in lands belonging to the South American Land Company. The Bahia Blanca and North Western Railway is to run through the settlement.

It is reported that a leading export firm of this market has purchased in Santa Fe no less than 7,000 tons of wheat of the new crop, which will be embarked in the Lamport and Holt's steamers. The price is kept in reserve. Many other firms also of this market have their agents in the colonies hard at work inspecting and purchasing.

Messrs. Tomkinson, Dungey and Co. have purchased the total wheat crop of Mr Faustino Alsina's estancia at —— dollars per 100 kilos, put on board at Puerto Alsina. The crop is expected to yield about 10,000 bags.

The receipts at the Custom House to-day amounted to $223,463.91 paper. The receipts for the past 10 days of this month were 1,846,593.15.

It is useless to disguise the fact that on 'change the recent great rise in gold or collapse in exchange was ascribed almost unanimously to the bad impression created by the Catonian Bills which instead of alleviating, are calculated to still further burthen the market at large. Dr. Lopez naturally does not reason in this way and as his explanation of the depreciation of the currency will be interesting to all who take an interest in this vital question we give his own words "The gold, says Dr. "Lopez, is very sensitive and there would "be nothing strange in the late rise being "due to the ministerial crisis in La Plata. "Furthermore there is still a considerable "demand for exchange to meet the com- "mercial needs, and until these are comp- "letely satisfied the rate of exchange cannot "be expected to advance. In any case I am "quite convinced of the definite result of "my projects once put in execution, and "therefore these oscillations do not trou- "ble me in the slightest. It is a passing "evil. A little patience, as we are near "the haven of safety."

Mr. J. Staley Gay was welcomed to-day from Rosario, where he reports business very dull indeed the only thing stirring being the breeze between the Municipality and City Improvement contractors.

The popular president of the Camara Sindical of the Bolsa, Dr. Legarreta, is, we are glad to say completely recovered from his late illness and will soon leave for his quinta on the picturesque banks of the Rio Lujan, to pass the summer months.

It is to be hoped that the National Senate will give due consideration to the dignified and impressive protest presented by all the leading merchants of Buenos Aires against the monstrous taxes proposed for the private banks. It is, unfortunately, a foregone conclusion that the taxes will be passed, but the protest is none the less significant of the great esteem and favor in which the banks are held by the mercantile community, and Dr. Lopez will not fail to appreciate the strength of the rebuke dealt out to him for his inconsiderate views and ill-timed remarks about usury and other nonsense of the kind. If the Minister had reason to believe that the bankers' petition was tinged with a necessary essence of partiality, he cannot allege the same now, as the very parties supposed to be aggrieved are the protestors. We give the names as a guarantee of the serious nature of the document:—

We take the following from the Montevideo Times:—

"The attitude of the market is still very undecided, and likely to remain so until events lead to a clearer comprehension of the decree of conversion. Still there was a brisk business to-day, mostly in National Bank shares, and the general tendency of prices was towards improvement.

"Shareholders of the Sociedad Agencia de Tierras are called to general meeting at 3 p.m. on the 22nd inst. Second convocation.

"We learn that during the absence of Mr. Casey, the presidency of the National Company will be assumed by Sr. H. Areco. The vacant seats on the board will be filled by Sres. A. Villegas and J. Dillon (the latter is manager of the Banco General Uruguayo).

"The s.s. Montevideo brought yesterday from Concordia 403 dols. to C. Becker, from Uruguay 265 dols. to E. Julia, from Palmi a 36 dols. to C. Becker. The Apolo brought from Buenos Aires 676 dols. to E. Bruzzermaun.

"The Casa Blanca saladero has sold 10,000 salted ox-hides, of 67 lbs., to be delivered to Feb. 20th, at reserved price.

"2200 arrobes of wool were sold in the Central Station and Feria yesterday at $3.55 and 3.70 special, $3 to 3.42 other classes."

There have been eighteen great financial crises during the last century and a quarter, viz.:—In 1763, at Amsterdam, originating with the house of De Neufville, and involving seventy-seven failures; the failures in Holland in 1773 exceeded £10,000,000. In 1799, in Hamburg, there were 82 failures, involving £2,000,000. There was a panic at Liverpool in the same year, which was, however, somewhat mitigated by Parliament lending £500,000 in Exchequer bills on goods. In 1814 240 banks suspended payment in England. In 1825, at Manchester, failures occurred to the amount of £2,000,000. The Calcutta failures of 1831 involved £15,000,000. The "wild cat" crisis in the States in 1837 caused all their banks to close. In 1839 the Bank of England was saved by the Bank of France. A panic in France during the same year caused 93 companies to fail for the sum of £6,000,000. In 1844 a crisis in England brought about the reformation of the Bank of England. The English failures of 1847 involved 20 millions sterling. During the great panic of 1857 in the States, 7200 houses failed for £112,000,000. The Overend, Gurney and Co. failure, nearly a quarter of a century ago, involved failures costing upwards of £100,000,000.

Messrs. Agar Cross & Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in reporting favourably of your "Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine." Up to date we have shorn upwards of 300 Lincoln Rams and Borregas, and find it quite up to our expectations. It is simple and easily handled, and in no way complicated or difficult to understand or work, and so far it has never been out of order. It shears the sheep beautifully: it does them quicker and considerably better than it is possible to get them done by hand, and saves the poor animal a great amount of abuse.

I have timed our Amateur Shearer here, and find he can shear upwards of eight in the hour. Consequently, I consider the Wolseley Machine one of the best patents I have yet seen, in proof of which I intend having some more put up at an early date.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM RIDDICK.

'94, Commercial Road, Peckham, July 12, 1889.

"Dear Sir,—I am a poor hand at expressing my feelings on paper, but I should like to thank you, for your lozenge have done wonders for me in relieving my terrible cough, Since I had the operation of 'Tracheotomy' (the same as the late Emperor of Germany, and unlike him, thank God, I am still alive and getting on) well-performed at St. Bartholomew's Hospital for abduct, or paralysis of the vocal chords, no one could possibly have had a more violent cough; indeed it was so bad at times that it quite exhausted me. The mucus also, which was very copious and hard has been softened, and I have been able to get rid of it without difficulty,—I am, sirs, yours truly,

"Mr. T. Keating," "J. HILL.

Medical Note.
The above speaks for itself. From strict inquiry it appears that the benefit from using Keating's Cough Lozenges is understated. The operation was a specially severe one, and was performed by the specialist. Dr. H. T. Butlin, of St. Bartholomew's Hospital. Since the operation the only means of relief is the use of these Lozenges. So successful are they that one affords immediate benefit, although from the nature of the case the throat irritation is intense. Mr. Hill kindly allows any reference to be made to him.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's CHLORODYNE.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Januar 5 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London.

Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent, we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years, In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of he Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to,—See The Times," July 13, 1864.
